SECTION 1
RULESITEM 435

- (a) When credit has been established between carrier and consignor, consignee, or third party in accordance with the rules and regulations of the Federal Motor Carrier Safety Administration, or other Federal governing body, the provisions of this item will apply.
- (b) The standard credit period shall extend fifteen (15) calendar days (including Saturdays, Sundays, and legal Holidays) from the first 12 o'clock midnight following presentation of the freight bill by carrier, or the deposit of same in the U.S Mail, the postmark date on carrier's transmittal envelope shall control.
- (c) When carrier's freight bill has not been paid within the standard credit period, carrier will extend the credit periods, and the consignor, consignee, or third party will be assessed a service charge equal to 1.5% per month (18% per annum) of the amount of carrier's total freight bill, subject to a minimum of service charge of $10.00 per freight bill, for such extension of credit.

- (e) For the purposes of this rule, mailing within the standard credit period by the consignor, consignee, or third party of acceptable checks, drafts or money orders in payment of freight bills shall be deemed to be the collection of the applicable tariff charges within the credit period. In case of dispute as to the date of mailing, the postmark date on the transmittal envelope shall be controlling.

NOTE: By imposing the service charge for the extension of credit, carrier seeks to prevent a consignor, consignee, or third party from having free use of funds due the carrier. Carrier does not sanction payment delays; the failure of a consignor, consignee, or third party to pay within the authorized credit period will, despite the provision for a service charge, require carrier, before again extending credit, to determine in good faith whether consignor, consignee, or third party will comply with the credit regulations in the future. Carrier reserves the right to withhold credit arrangements from any party not making payments within the standard credit period.

Truckload shipments may be stopped in transit at any point or place for the purpose of partial loading or unloading under the following conditions:

- (a) All freight charges shall be prepaid in full at one time, by one party, be that shipper, consignee, or other named party.
- (b) Only one bill of lading and one shipping order will be issued for the entire shipment.
- (c) Only one party will be designated as shipper, and only one party will be designated as consignee thereon.
- (d) The names and addresses of parties and locations at which stop offs are to be made will be shown in the body of the bill of lading and shipping order, or on a separate paper attached to and made a part thereof. Such data will also include information sufficient to identify the material to be stopped, such as pieces, weight, and package markings, etc.
- (e) Stop off will only be permitted at point of origin or destination or at points between origin and destination when the mileage via highway route from origin to destination via stop off point (or points) does not exceed 12.5% of the shortest highway route between origin and final destination.
- (f) Except as otherwise provided, only three stop offs, whether for completion of loading or partial unloading shall be permitted. The work "stop" or "stops" as used herein means the stopping for the purpose of loading or partial unloading, not including the receipt of the original part of the shipment nor the final delivery at destination.

- (h) Except as otherwise provided in paragraph (i), the rate from the original place of shipment to the place of final delivery will apply on the total weight of the shipment (the weight after completion of loading, if a stop for that purpose is made, or the weight before the first stop is made for partial unloading, if a stop for that purpose is made).
- (i) If the rate from any place where a stop is made for completion of lading is higher than the rate from the original place of shipment, such higher rate will apply; or if the rate to any place where a stop for partial unloading is made is higher than to the place of final delivery, such higher rates will apply.
- (j) Where the additional pickup or delivery is to be performed within the continuous private property of the shipper or consignee, the provisions of this item will NOT apply. Apply the provisions of ITEM 890 (SPLIT PICKUPS OR DELIVERY) herein for this service.
